PROFESSOR YOUMIN XI

EXECUTIVE PRESIDENT, XI'AN JIAOTONG-LIVERPOOL UNIVERSITY
PRO-VICE-CHANCELLOR, UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL
DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR OF ARTS, HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES, XI'AN JIAOTONG UNIVERSITY

Graduation is not the end of learning but the beginning of venturing into the world.

Dickens once described the 19th century as “the best of times, the worst of times, the age of wisdom, the age of foolishness.” These words are just as relevant today. A vast array of disruptive technologies has transformed the world into a digital, interconnected, and intelligent global village, fundamentally reshaping human behaviour and lifestyles, and consequently altering societal structures. While reaping immense benefits, humanity is simultaneously grappling with challenges characterised by uncertainty, ambiguity, complexity, changeability, and scarcity.

To be born in this era is a privilege, granting us the opportunity to view ourselves, organisations, society, and humanity from a global perspective, as well as providing greater chances to explore the world and participate in global competition. Yet, being born in this era also presents challenges, compelling us to confront unprecedented uncertainties, profound societal transformations, and demanding life decisions and risks.

I believe that your time at XJTLU—through learning, training, and growth—has instilled in you the responsibility of a global citizen, the courage to venture beyond borders, the foundation to embrace challenges, and the capability to take bold action.

As you step onto the grand stage of this vibrant world, remember our university motto: “Light and Wings”. Dare to pursue your dreams, and may we celebrate your happiness in life and success in your career!

PROFESSOR TIM JONES

THE XJTLU GRADUATION CEREMONY

The UK tradition of graduation can be traced back over 800 years. It is an important rite of passage: for the majority of UK students it marks the transition from education to employment, a time of new opportunities and greater responsibilities.

In common with UK tradition, the XJTLU ceremony commences with a procession of senior officers and academic staff. After opening speeches by both the Executive President of XJTLU and the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Liverpool (UoL), each graduands are presented for their degrees. When their names are called, the graduands walk onto stage, where the XJTLU Executive President moves the tassels on their mortarboards from right to left. Afterwards, they are congratulated by the President of XJTLU and corresponding school representatives. At the end of the ceremony, the platform party processes out of the hall, followed by the new graduates.

Academic dress is very important to graduation ceremonies. Academic dress typically consists of a robe, a hood, and a hat with a tassel. At XJTLU, students graduating from bachelor degrees wear square academic hats called 'mortarboards', a traditional UK-style robe and a Chinese-style hood in one of six colours. The colours signify the XJTLU awards which the students receive: pink for Bachelor of Arts; blue for Bachelor of Engineering; gold for Bachelor of Economics; silver-grey for Bachelor of Management; copper for Bachelor of Science; pink for Master of Arts, Blue for Master of Science and red for PhD.

BACKGROUND MUSIC

MASQUE

The procession enters and leaves the hall to 'Masque' composed by Kenneth Hesketh and recorded by the North Texas Wind Symphony. Hesketh was born in 1968 and began composing music whilst a chorister at Liverpool Anglican Cathedral. He was 'Composer in the House' with the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra for two years until 2009.

2025 GRADUATES

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS
SCHOOL SUZHOU

JORG BLEY, PROFESSOR

DEAN, INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS SCHOOL SUZHOU

Dear Members of the IBSS Class of 2025,

You made it!

The day you have all been looking forward to, has finally arrived. The day of your graduation.

It is hard to believe that after the countless hours of learning and studying in and outside the classroom, the all-nighters you pulled before exams, the range of group work and presentations, the research projects you conducted, the FYPs or dissertations you drafted, and the many assessments you took, this part of your academic journey is over.

You have gained a tremendous amount of factual knowledge, developed important soft skills, and formed an awareness of social responsibility. As a result, you have become independent and self-motivated critical thinkers with an open mind and international perspective. Trust in what you have learned and be proud of the person you have become. I am confident that you are ready to take your place in society, be it in the corporate world, academia, or government organizations.

As the world around us is evolving at an ever-increasing pace, life-long learning is no longer a theoretical concept, but the key to your professional success and continuing personal growth. Many of you will take on jobs in the not-so-distant future, that don't even exist today, requiring a frequent update of your existing and the acquisition of new skills. As XJTLU becomes your alma mater, IBSS will remain your educational partner in this dynamic and complex economic environment.

Whether you become an employee or an entrepreneur, it is important not to be afraid of failure. If it occurs, and it will, learn from it, embrace it and move on. In fact, without failure there is no true growth.

As you navigate through life, I urge you to never stop your pursuit of knowledge or be complacent in the face of mediocrity. Above all, never give up on your dreams.

You are now the youngest alumni of XJTLU's IBSS.

Congratulations. Well done!
