

On the High-quality Development of Private Economy in Suzhou: A Case Study of Local Private Textile Enterprises

Zhenxiong LI

Abstract

In recent years, the progress of high-quality development of textile industry in Suzhou, in which local private economy is highly concentrated, has attracted a lot of attention. Based on the field work investigations, this research presents five obstacles in the high-quality development in domestic private textile enterprises nowadays. Accordingly, four aspects of policy suggestions are proposed to promote the further development of the private economy in Suzhou's textile sector.

Key Words

Suzhou's private economy Suzhou's private textile enterprises high-quality development